Proofreading Party

Allow Around H.I.M. the honor of organizing you a proof reading party. Your closest intellectual friends and family members are gathered to read (printers' proofs, copy, etc.) in order to detect and mark errors to be corrected. During the event, we do not need the author trying to multi-task or play dual-roles but to completely engulf themselves in the role as an author. We will send your guests a proof copy of the book well in advance and ask them to prepare to be entertained as the group goes through the book, page by page. You can invite 5-25 people. The more people, who read, the more eyes will have to give feed back before going public.

Event Coordinator/server Fee: $30 per hour (minimum of 3 hours), not including caterer, venue or supplies. We can find you the perfect venue. Please contact us for further details.

Book Tea Party

Launch Your Next Book Inside A Garden

Slip into a gorgeous hat. Sip a glass of lavender lemonade. Stop and smell the roses (they're everywhere). Listen to the music. Have some luscious strawberries and a cake of your own.

To create a summer idyll, you need: smiling women, a garden, sunshine, lots of flowers, fluttering skirts, a bare shoulder or two, heaps of strawberries, small cunningly shaped cakes, lots more flowers, bare toes, grass, hot tea, and big beautiful hats. Men are optional; the hats are not.

Event Planner Fee: $399 for up to 50 people (minimum of four hour event), not including venue, food, caterer, invitations

LITERARY CAFÉ

WWW.AROUNDINNER.COM

Imagine the fellowship hall of your church or any location converted into a Café with sofas, throw rug, bookshelves, lounge chairs and coffee tables. We would like to set up a Literary Café for your church or organization, like a book club but with a Café, barista/server, serving you coffee in a huge coffee mug with pastries along with a touch of class. The focus of our Literary Café is to promote great literature, that's a given, but it has grown into an all-inclusive community. We're not only promoting the book's authors write, but we're promoting the readers, churches, communities and organizations who enjoy reading, fellowship, great discussion. We would like to create an event to invite people to your church who might not normally fellowship with you on a regular. We're an all-inclusive community including both traditionally published and independently published authors. We're bringing together the building blocks of grass-roots marketing by thinking outside our own comfort zone to make a stranger comfortable in a place you call home.

Building Wealth in the Kingdom

The Order of Melchizedek

Then Melchizedek king of Salem brought out bread and wine. He was priest of God Most High, and he blessed Abram, saying, 'Blessed be Abram by God Most High, Creator of heaven and earth. And blessed be God Most High, who delivered your enemies into your hand.' Then Abram gave him a tenth of everything. (Gen 14:18–20)

Abram (whose name was later changed to Abraham) had just returned from defeating four kings and their armies and from rescuing his nephew Lot, whom they had taken captive (Gen 14:1–16). When he returned, Melchizedek brought out bread and wine for him. He then blessed Abram, who gave him a tenth of everything—ie a tenth of the plunder.

Abram's victory had been achieved with the help of God. He and the men of his household had defeated four kings and their armies. Those four kings had previously defeated five other kings, but Abram defeated them with only 318 men.

That was a miracle and was typical of how God helped his people in the Old Testament. Blessed be God Most High, who delivered your enemies into your hand.' It was God who had delivered his enemies to him, and Abram gave Melchizedek a tenth of everything God had given him from that victory.
